Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

- 2. Claims 46-61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Britton et al of record.
- 3. Patentees disclose making a foam composition containing an active ingredient of the claimed type (col. 6 line 29-41) said foam is adapted for stability upon contact with air and instability upon contact with water, note that the working examples show aqueous dissolution of the stable foam containing controlled release of an active ingredient.
- 4. One skilled in the art would be motivated to make said foam containing active ingredient in the form called for in the instant claims depending upon what its use was.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

- 1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
- 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
- 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
- 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
